THE NEWS OF THE WEEK.

A Daily Resume of Latest Happenings.

SEPTEMBER 4.

Rev. Dr. Edward Eggleston, noted as a Methodist minister and author, died of paralysis at his home at Lake George, N. Y.

Farmers near Arlington, S. D., posted and patrolled their stubble fields to prevent President Roosevelt's son, Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., from hunting. Dogs were set on him at one farm house where he went for a drink of water.

Official figures from the gendarme of Marlinque give the number of killed in last week's eruption of Mount Pelée at 1,000. The ill-fated inhabitants left the stricken territory after the May catastrophe and were last week sent back by the Government.

State Treasurer Hager yesterday sent out checks aggregating $86,589 to Eastern and Western Insane Asylums, the Institution for Deaf Mutes and the Federal Insane Asylum, the money for settling the kind quarterly allowance. The amount due the Central Asylum will be sent out in a few days.

George H. Thomas Post, G. A. R. of Indianapolis yesterday voted toward the erection of Cottages at Mountain Creek, Ala., for Indian Confederates. This is the first of the kind in the State, was originally intended for the Indians to combine and erect a "Haudan" cottage, but this plan has been abandoned.

The Ohio Democratic State Convention at Cedar Point, near Sandusky, yesterday lasted less than three hours, and resulted in the nomination of the ticket with a single exception as stated by Mayor Tom L. Johnson. The convention was also made the vehicle for launching the boom of Mayor Tom Johnson for the presidency in 1904.

The Rev. Herbert S. Biglow, of Cincinnati, heads the ticket as nominee for Secretary of State. The platform adopted reaffirms the Kansas City platform.

President Roosevelt had a hair breadth escape from death at Pittsfield, Mass., when an electric street car struck and demolished the landau in which he was riding. He was thrown violently to the ground and bruised about the face. Secretary Cortis was slightly hurt in the back of the head. Gov. Craig, of Massachusetts, who was also in the carriage, escaped injury. William Craig, a secret service agent who had accompanied the President on his New England tour, was instantly killed. D. J. Peat, driver of the carriage, was seriously injured, but it is believed he will recover. The motorman of conductor John placed under arrest on a charge of manslaughter.

The President reached his home at Oyster Bay last night and began South on his schedule trip east of the week.

Gov. Stone, of Pennsylvania, invited to friends last night that would call an extra session of the Legislature with a view to the passage of a compulsory arbitration law, having for its object the settlement of the anthracite strike. Stone is said to have formulated a plan for the enactment of a law which he believes would stand the test of the courts and would settle the strike within a few days after its adoption.

Gov. George F. Baer, of the Ohio company, yesterday issued by to Senators Quay and Pennington, declaring the anthracite coal miners' cannot be arbitrated. The law advanced by the operators in forth in a number of "proposals." A clash between strikers and the Flat Top West Virginia occurred last night, when a number of shots were fired. No one was wounded.

SEPTEMBER 6.

General Pratt holds elections to fill vacancies in the of Police Judges and Magistrates and counties embraced in the in which Appellate are to be elected.

At the Trades Union Congress in London a resolution favoring compulsory arbitration was defeated.

The opposition was due to a fear that many of the advantages already gained would be lost and that the unions would die of inanition from lack of further need for their existence.

The financing of an electric line between Indianapolis and Cincinnati by the Widener-Elkins syndicate will, it is said, be determined in a few days. The syndicate, it is reported, is anxious for the construction of the line, but awaits figures from the surveying engineers to show that the cost will not be out of proportion to the earning capacity.

Capt. C. C. Calhoun, who has been in Washington in the interest of Kentucky's Spanish War claims, started last night for his home in Lexington. He expects the volunteers from the State to receive about $150,000 in all. Claim agents are reported to be buying up the claims among the volunteers at a reduction, expecting to realize full value on them.

The blith in the formation of the so-called Packing trust is said to be only temporary and to have been caused by the Swifts demanding that their stock be taken at its market value. This was opposed by the Armour, whose stock is not on the market. A plan is said to be on foot to settle this point. No fear of contempt proceedings in the Federal courts, it is reported, interfered with the deal.

Steps were taken in New York yesterday having in view the monopolization of the banking interests of the South American republics. With this in view, the directors of the Mexican Trust Company and the Corporation Trust signed a consolidation agreement, which will make of the institutions a corporation to be known as the International Bank and Trust Company with a capital stock of $10,000,000.

President Roosevelt will bear the marks of Wednesday's accident at Pittsfield, Mass., for three or four days. He yesterday received Grand Duke Boris, of Russia, at Oyster Bay. The President will start from Washington this evening on his Southern trip, arriving in Chattanooga Sunday morning. He will visit Knoxville and Asheville, returning to Washington Sept. 19.

The body of William Craig, the Secret Service agent, who was killed in the street car accident, was sent yesterday to Chicago. The funeral will be held today.

Frank A. Vanderbilt, of the National City Bank of New York, stated yesterday in London that Europe has lost somewhat of its awe of American competition. This he attributes to the decline in American exports and the unexampled domestic demand for goods but he said that if the crop expectations for 1902 are fulfilled the exports from the United States will likely reach the highest mark hitherto known. There is general belief in Europe and especially in Germany that American prosperity is at the flood. German economists continue to set dates for American financial disaster, and have lost courage for their own situation.

SEPTEMBER 7TH.

The British Trades Union Congress rejected a resolution favoring woman suffrage.

Vicerey Curzon said yesterday that the recent rains had dispelled all fear of another famine in India.

Prof. Rudolf Virchow, the world's greatest pathologist, died yesterday in Berlin in his eighty-first year.

The American embassy in London has found it necessary for the protection of credulous Americans to warn them against stories of vast unclaimed English estates that are said to be awaiting American claimants.

It is not believed that the report of a volcanic eruption Wednesday night on the island of Marlinque was erroneous, and probably referred to the outbreak of Saturday, August 30, in which some 1,200 to 2,000 lives were lost.

Gen. Botha, Dewet and Delarey yesterday had a long conference with Colonial Secretary Chamberlain. Nothing was made public as to the conference, but Mr. Chamberlain said the proceedings would be published later in a Blue Book.

Lieut. Ward Winchell, naval expert, has made a report of the trial of oil as a fuel on the Pacific steamship Mariposa. The experiment was a success, a mean speed of 13.5 knots being maintained on 278 barrels of oil a day, while the engine force was reduced sixteen men.

The trustees of the Confederate Memorial Association, at a meeting held in Charlotte, N. C., adopted a resolution declaring vacant the office of superintendent and secretary, held by John C. Underwood. They also decided to resist payment of Mr. Underwood's claim of $17,000 against the association.

President Roosevelt started from Washington last evening for Chattanooga, Tenn., where he will on Monday attend the convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen. Stops will be made on the trip only at three other places—Wheeling, W. Va., Knoxville, Tenn., and Asheville, N. C.

President Roosevelt in Philadelphia yesterday declared that "the men at the head of the Republican party in Pennsylvania" will ultimately settle the coal miners' strike. About 1,000 striking miners yesterday returned to work in the Pocahontas region of West Virginia. It is reported the miners on strike in the New and Kanawha river districts will probably resume work Monday on the same terms granted in the other West Virginia field.

SEPTEMBER 7TH.

Gen. Corbin, Young and Wood were presented to Emperor William at the Markendorf parade field yesterday. They were given a cordial welcome and were invited to dine with the Emperor on Monday.

The Rev. Morris Wilson, an aged Baptist minister, near Geneva, W. Va., cut his wife's throat while he was in a demented condition. Neighbors came up during the struggle. Mr. Wilson, who is 82 years of age, disappeared in the woods and has not been seen since.

The Soufriere volcano on the island of St. Vincent is greatly agitated, and the people are fleeing from the fire zone. The entire island has been enveloped in smoke. It is feared there has been destruction of life and property.

Charles F. Moore, an expert bank forger, is dying at the Michigan City prison. Notwithstanding his condition all efforts to secure a pardon for him have failed because of the opposition of the American Bankers' Association, which regards him as too dangerous a man to be set at liberty.

Chairman Bailey, of the Sixth Kentucky Judicial District Democratic Committee, having refused to call a meeting, a majority of the members of the committee issued a call yesterday for a meeting on Monday. The primary will be ordered for the day of the regular election in November.

Appellate Judge O'Rear yesterday heard arguments at Frankfort on a motion to dissolve an injunction granted in Letcher county in the case of the Northern Coal and Coke Company vs. James B. Speed and others. The coal company is seeking to protect options it holds on mountain mineral lands.

The hesitancy of the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger Company is now assigned as a reason for the delay in announcing the packing house combine, and they may receive their demand of $400 a share cash for their $1,400,000 capital stock.

The body of a suicide thought to be William Bartholin, the alleged murderer of his mother and sweetheart in Chicago, was found in a field near Lowther, Ia. Letters were found on him confessing to the murder of two women in Chicago. Letters signed "M. M.", the initials of Bartholin's murdered mother, were also found in the dead man's pockets.

Congressman Clayton, of Alabama, has no fear of a white Republican party in that State. The foundations of the party, he claims, are faulty—the negro and christian-bagger. Mr. Clayton stated that the Republican protest against trusts is insincere, and he asserts that while publicity would be beneficial, yet the best way of handling the subject is through the tariff.

President Roosevelt passed across Kentucky last night for Chattanooga, where he will arrive at 8:30 o'clock this morning. His train stopped only at Lexington and Somerset after leaving Louisville. At Wheeling, W. Va., during the morning, the President delivered an address on the trust question, repeating his plea for conservative action and constitutional amendment. A committee of Atlanta citizens will call on the President in Chattanooga and invite him to visit the Georgia metropolis next month.

SEPTEMBER 8.

Kansas City church people have started a war against disorderly houses.

The result of yesterday's baseball games put Indianapolis in the lead in the American Association, with Louisville second.

Former United States Senator William N. Bouch, of North Dakota, died yesterday in New York, after a long illness from cancer.
